Minister Liucoin's First Fee. Washington Fest.

Robert T. Lincoln likes to tell the story of his first fee as an attorney. Old Judge Logan, under whom he read law, had always told him not to be afraid to charge big fees for his services. "Peo-ple don't respect a cheap lawyer," said charge big fees for his services. "People don't respect a choap lawyer," said the Judge.

One day soon after Mr. Lincoln had been admitted to practice he sat alone in his office when a measenger brought a note from the Chicago agent of one of the wealtheat insurance companies in America, asking to have the title to a certain piece of property looked up. The young lawyer spent about half an hour looking into the title and then sent hisreport to the insurance office. Pretty soon the measenger came in with another note. This one requested Mr. Lincoln to send his bill by the bearer. The young lawyer had no idea what to charge. At first he thought it would be good policy not to charge anything, "for," said he to himself, "I should like to get that sompany's work regularly," But he knew Judge Logan would not approve that sort of thing, and he didn't want the Judge to think he was heedless of his advice. So he figured that, since he had worked only half an hour, $10 would be a good, stiff price, for it would be at the rate of $200 for a day of ten hours. The words of Judge Logan, however, rang in his ears, and with a stroke of audeity that almost frightened him Mr. Lincoln finally made the bill for $25. He felt that this was an outrageously high fee, and was heelitating as to whether he would give it to the boy or make out another for $10 when Judge Logan chanced to come in.

"You are just the man I want to see,"

said Mr. Lincoln, and he told him of his dilemma.

"I knew it was outrageously high," said Mr. Lincoln, "but, judge, you always told me to make hig bills, and I did this more top lease you thannysel."

"Nonsense," said the judge; "give me a pen." He sat down, wrote another bill, and gave it to the boy.

In a few minutes the boy returned with the insurance agent's check for $250, and a little note to Mr. Lincoln thanking him for his promptness, and saying the company's other work of this character would be sent to him.

"Great Scott." said the young lawyer to the old one, "did you make out a bill for $250?"

for $250?"
"Of course I did," answered the old judge. "You don't want to be a damned eleemosynary institution for insurance companies, do you?"

But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the Tropics, and, in particular, a couple of ALLOCK's POROUS PLASTERS clapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

Under a spreading chestnut tree The village blacksmith stands, And in a brimming basin he Would wash his brawny hands; But something else than water clean His sooty palm demands.

Week in, week out, from morn till night, He might have rubbed, I trow, Had I not given him a cake Of IVORY SOAP, when, lo! Full soon those honest hands of his Were spotless as the snow,

And when the soap escaped his grasp, With wonder he did note That on the water's surface dark The cleansing bar did float, As swims upon a turbid lake A pearl white fairy boat.

"Thanks, thanks," said he, "my worthy friend, For this which thou hast brought;

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
